UAL Level 3 Applied General Diploma in Art and Design (603/1457/6)

Overview

Who is this qualification for?

The UAL Level 3 Applied General Diploma in Art and Design is designed to be an 'Applied General' qualification that provides post-16 students with the skills, knowledge and understanding necessary to progress onto further learning. The skills developed throughout this qualification may also support students to progress into appropriate entry level roles in employment and training programmes or apprenticeships in the creative industry.

It provides an opportunity for those who have an interest in the visual arts to explore, develop and test their creativity within a qualification structure which is stimulating and demanding.

There are no formal entry requirements for this qualification. However, it is recommended that students have a minimum of 4 x GCSEs at grade 4 or grade C and above, at least one of which should be in an art and design subject (or the equivalent Level 2 qualification in an appropriate subject).

What does this qualification cover?

The UAL Level 3 Applied General Diploma in Art & Design focuses on developing students' understanding and application of visual language and the creative process to enable them to develop creative ideas, solutions and outcomes. It is comprised of one unit:

Unit 1: Diagnostic investigation in Art and Design

In this unit, students will undertake a diagnostic investigation into art and design practices. This diagnostic investigation allows students to explore a wide range of art and design disciplines as part of their journey to, or reinforcement of a specialist practice. Students will demonstrate the culmination of their learning by responding to a creative brief, which is set and marked by UAL Awarding Body.

What could this qualification lead to?

The content of the qualification was developed collaboratively with experts from universities, further education colleges and 6th form colleges to ensure that it provides students with the skills, knowledge and understanding they need to progress into further and higher education.

This qualification will support students to progress or transition to a range of further education and vocational courses, such as:

- UAL Level 3 Applied General Extended Diploma in Art and Design
- UAL Level 3 Diploma in Art and Design – Foundation Studies
- UAL Level 4 Diploma in Art and Design – Foundation Studies

This qualification attracts UCAS Tariff points and therefore may be recognised by higher education providers as meeting admission requirements, either in its own right or alongside other Level 3 qualifications, to many relevant courses. These include:

- BA (Hons) Product Design
- BA (Hons) Fine Art
- BA (Hons) Fashion Design
- BA (Hons) Graphic Design
- BA (Hons) Photography
- BA (Hons) Games Design
- BA (Hons) 3D Design

The primary purpose of the UAL Level 3 Applied General Diploma in Art & Design is to aid students to progress to further/higher learning. However, the transferable skills and knowledge developed as part of this qualification will support students to progress into appropriate entry level roles or apprenticeships in the creative sector.

Are there any larger and/or smaller versions of this qualification available?

This qualification is the smallest qualification in the suite of UAL Level 3 'Applied General' Art and Design qualifications. It is equivalent in size to 1.5 A levels, and is typically delivered over one-year of study. The qualification is ideal for students who have not decided what practice or discipline within art and design they wish to develop their practice. Students who complete the Diploma may choose to progress to the Extended Diploma.

The UAL Level 3 Applied General Extended Diploma in Art & Design is the largest qualification in the suite. It is equivalent in size to 3 A levels, and is typically delivered over two-years of full time study. This qualification is comprised of two units:

- Unit 1: Diagnostic investigation in Art and Design (same as diploma)
- Unit 2: Specialist practice in Art and Design
