

Information for offer holders: BA (Hons) 3D Effects for Performance and Fashion

This document contains important information from your course team about what to expect from your studies, including what kit you'll need to participate in your course.

We recommend visiting our Coronavirus information pages regularly for the latest advice and support to help you study safely.

We are really looking forward to welcoming you to BA (Hons) 3D Effects for Performance and Fashion course and we wish you an incredibly stimulating and productive year. We want to tell you a little more about our plans for the 2021/22 academic year.

We look forward to seeing you in both our classrooms and our online sessions this year. We would like to introduce our Course Leader, Caroline Gardener and let you know that we are ready to take you on an incredible journey of creation and experimentation, through industry driven processes and practical skills, as well as design oriented projects that combine critical thinking with specialist knowledge in the field of 3D Effects.

It gives us great pleasure to be delivering our academic year 2021/2022 with a robust approach to teaching and learning which combines exciting face-to-face practical sessions in the spaces of UAL, as well as interesting online activities that complement and enrich your practical knowledge.

Through exciting online sessions such as lectures, workshops and masterclasses, your on-site practical sessions are enriched with the advice, mentorship and consultancy with industry professionals that now are accessible more than ever. Alongside our lecturers and technical team, experienced industry practitioners will work with you through face-to-face practical workshops, physical and online lectures, masterclasses, and industry connected projects.

After experiencing a long period of adjustment due to the Covid-19 pandemic, students and practitioners in the field of costume have confirmed how resilient and resourceful we both as an industry and within our UAL community.

We know from experience that things can change very rapidly, so we have plans in place just in case we have to adapt to further restrictions or other events, and we have designed our timetables to make this possible. Your timetable will be published in early September. We are looking forward to welcoming you when term begins.

We are very much looking forward to meeting you and taking you on your learning journey at UAL.
