Planning an Alumni Reunion
Reunions are a fantastic way to meet up with old friends and reminisce about your days at College. By hosting a reunion you can reunite old classmates who have lost touch with one another, reignite friendships or simply use it as an excuse to hold a celebration for those of you that have stayed in touch over the years.

There are many ways the Alumni Relations Team can help you plan a reunion, from suggesting venues to helping put you back in touch with former classmates. This document is designed to outline all of this, as well as provide you with other tips and advice to ensure your reunion runs smoothly.

Event planning
Organising a reunion is relatively straightforward, however it does require time and effort, and we have always found that the best reunions are those that are kept simple. Here are some things to consider in the early stages of your planning:

• Are you still in touch with a former classmate/ friend who can work with you on this event and share the responsibilities?

• Who do you want to invite? Is this for your whole course, or a certain group of friends who you may have lost touch with? Will you include their partners and families?

• Decide on what type of event you would like (this will depend on who you are inviting). Would you like to come back to your College, go for dinner, or perhaps host a drinks reception?

• Do you have a specific date in mind? Take time to plan your event carefully, we suggest allowing yourself at least 12 weeks.

• Consider any costs that might be involved with what you have in mind. The Alumni Relations Team is not able to help cover the costs of events.

• Contact the Alumni Relations Team to let us know of your ideas. We may be able to make some early suggestions dependant on what else is happening at UAL and within the alumni community: alumni@arts.ac.uk / +44 (0)20 7514 8148.
Type of Event
Once you know who you want to invite, you can think about what type of event would best suit the group. Here are some examples of different event formats that have been successful in the past:

Come back to College
The Alumni Relations Team would be happy to discuss the possibility of you and your guests revisiting your College and seeing what has changed since you graduated. We may also be able to organise a room for you to hold a small drinks reception.

Meet in a pub
This is an easy and casual way to gather a group of busy people.

Drinks Reception
If you want to host a formal drinks reception, do think about the costs of hiring a venue, drinks and food.

Dinner
You could organise a dinner for your guests. Think about a good restaurant in a central location. It might be worth considering asking the restaurant if they can do a set menu for a large group as this simplifies paying for the meal.

Gallery/ Exhibition
If there is a specific exhibition taking place that you think would be relevant to your group you could meet at a gallery or museum. Take a look at what is going on at the University.

College Degree Shows
These are a great opportunity to come back to College and view the fantastic work of graduating students. You could organise meeting as a group to tour the building and view the work, before moving on to drinks or dinner.

Meet at a University event
Find out from the Alumni Relations Team if there are any particular events taking place that you could gather at.
Venue
You now know who you want to invite and what type of event you want to host. The next thing to think about is the venue. Here are some tips when thinking about the perfect location for your

- Speak to the Alumni Relations Team who may have some suggestions about locations at one of UAL’s College’s or within central London that they have worked with before
- Is there a charge for hiring the venue? If so, who will cover this?
- Perhaps you have a friend who owns a gallery space or studio they are happy for you to use
- Ensure the venue has good transport links and is easy to find
- Visit the venue before hand to make sure it has the atmosphere you are after and the beverages are reasonably priced. This will also be the opportunity to talk to staff about possible music and moving of furniture

Invitations
The date is set, the venue is booked, now its time to invite people, and this is where the Alumni Relations Team can really help.

- Ideally, invitations should be sent 6-8 weeks before the event. It is also a good idea to send a reminder to those that have not responded, perhaps 1-2 weeks before the event day.
- How do you want to invite people? This depends on what type of contact details you have in your address book. Email is the most cost effective and reliable method of invitation, but you can also write a letter invitation to anyone you don’t have an email address for.
- Did you know we have a database of over 200,000 former UAL students? We would be happy to send invites to your event to anyone you may have lost touch with.
- We would also be happy to work with you on text for your invite and even send them out on your behalf
• Keep clear lists of all those you have invited, who has accepted, declined and not responded. This will make it easy for you to keep an eye on numbers to expect and people to send a reminder to. It would be great if you could update the Alumni Relations Team with all this information for our records.

• Send an email the day before the event to confirm all the details with those who have said they are coming. This means everyone knows where to be and when, also you can make sure they are still able to attend.

There are some helpful templates online to help you with the planning. However, if at any point you require further assistance, please feel free to contact the Alumni Relations Team: alumni@arts.ac.uk / +44 (0)20 7514 8148.

On the day
Remember, during the event, the priority is to enjoy yourself! Here are some things that can add to your experience:

• Try and take lots of photos of the event and guests. You could perhaps designate one person to take photos, or for a more formal event, you may wish to hire a professional photographer to truly capture the experience. But do remember to inform everyone that photos are being taken, and give them the opportunity to opt-out if they wish.

• Try and encourage all guests to bring along any memorabilia they have from their days at college (photographs, newspaper clippings, work), this is a great way of igniting old memories and sharing stories.

• Consider having a visitor’s book to pass around the group. This could be used to share contact details and anecdotes.
Post event
Well done, the hard work is over! There are just a few small tasks that need to be completed:

- Contact everyone who attended and thank them. You may also find it useful to gain some feedback from them, and see if it is something they would like to do again. Think of the best way to share photos of the day with guests. You could perhaps use a photo sharing site such as Facebook.

- Get in touch with the Alumni Relations Team to let us know how it went. We would be grateful if you could let us know who attended, any guest comments and also share your photos with us. This will help us produce, with your help, an event report and photo gallery for the UAL Alumni Association website.

- Was anyone, apart from you, integral in making this event a success. If so, make sure you thank them (ie, staff member giving a tour, a gallery giving you a space).
