

WHAT WE DO

TUESDAY 18 JANUARY 2022, from 5.15pm

What We Do invites academic and technical staff from across Central Saint Martins to present research, practices and opportunities for collaboration to colleagues in an informal and open environment. For our first session of 2022, three speakers will present:

Ciaran Malik, Technical Studies Coordinator BA Architecture

Moving to Regenerative Architecture: research into designing more regeneratively and applying principles into the Horticultural Classroom using low carbon materials, cement free foundations and design for adaptation and design for deconstruction techniques.

Richie Manu, Programme Director - Culture and Enterprise

The Bridge: Sharing outcomes of one of the projects under the Teaching Scholar initiative, which sets out to develop a bridge to foster an enable cross-course student engagement, collaboration and networking within and across Programmes at UAL.

Adeena Mey, Research Fellow & Editor Afterall, with Adjoa Armah, Researcher
Black Atlantic Museum: Mapping, method, and the boundaries of art history.
