Graduate Business Directory

Careers and Employability
Empowering UAL students and graduates to make a living doing what they love.
[arts.ac.uk/careers]
UAL is proud of its community of enterprising students and alumni. Becoming a founder, a freelancer, a designer-maker, or an entrepreneur are all the ways that many of our graduates choose in order to establish themselves in the creative industries. Over time, they will become the employers, mentors and role models for future generations of creatives.

Careers and Employability empowers UAL students and graduates to make a living doing what they love. Our Graduate Business Directory showcases UAL graduates who have gone on to start a business or become self-employed. Browse the profiles to discover talent, search for a collaborator or find out more about our creative graduates.

Many of the businesses listed in the directory have benefitted from initiatives launched by Careers and Employability at UAL, including our creative business accelerator, mentoring, diversity programme, awards, start-up visa and enterprise programme.
